Following God is not always easy, we have days when we question and doubt and wonder. But God's imagination is so much bigger than ours; God's dreams open us up to so much more life than our own.

When Jesus called his first disciples, he asked them to come follow him and promised that he would make them fishers of people. Peter and his brother, Andrew, are out fishing. They are doing what they know how to do, what provides a life for them and their families. They are doing what quite likely their parents and grandparents and great-grandparents had done all their lives.

But Jesus comes to them and says, leave behind what you know and follow me to something bigger, something you can't even imagine right now. There is no way Peter could have known that letting go of his nets and following Jesus would lead him down this path where he walks on water until he sinks, where he goes around the known world bringing the news and teaching of Jesus to thousands, and where he encounters God so profoundly that he is willing to have his life turned totally upside down for the love of God.

God comes to each one of us and asks us to follow, to leave behind what we know and what we have planned, and to be open to the newness God wants to bring into our lives. Because God has called us all, God continues to call us all.

How have you experienced the call of God in your life? And how is God calling you today? Sometimes, like Peter and Andrew, we experience God's call as a clear and decisive moment. But other times we experience that divine call like a subtle nudging, something that bothers us that we just can't quite ignore. Sometimes we experience it like a kind of restlessness or discontent. Sometimes we experience God's call as something tugging on our hearts.

But, however we experience it, God comes to each of us and says follow, follow, follow. Leave the old nets and boats behind and come learn a new way, follow God to something new, something you can't even imagine or fully understand yet.

So take a moment, or maybe a few moments, to ponder, reflect, and pray: How is God calling you today?

As you do this, remember,

You are much loved!

Prayer Card Ministry

Dear Christian Friends,

I'd like to thank you for your encouraging notes of love while recuperating from surgery. I am home, but still in therapy here at the Watson Center. Without our Heavenly Father, how would we heal our souls and Body!

With Love,
Anne Ramsey

Congregation,

I want to thank all the kind people who have sent me their prayers over the past 18 months. They have contributed greatly to my recovery. My general health has improved greatly, my paralysis has been reduced slightly, and, with God's help, both will continue on that path.

Thank you.

Andrew Whiley
